SEEN, HEARD AND TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:20.

That 'special election' scheduled for July 13, I fear, aint going to be much of an election, as young John Throop of Water Valley is the only fellow running for the State Senate. Young Williams, who was elected in the regular election in 1951, resigned, so somebody had to take his place for the momentous days ahead. I unhesitatingly say, therefore, vote for John Throop Jr. next Tuesday.

The Men's Bible Class of the Methodist Church sponsored the purchase and installation of an air-conditioning unit placed in the bed room of John Rundle, their faithful teacher for 'lo these many years. Mr. Rundle, we hear, is seriously ill at home.

Kirk's understudy, Junius Townes, told me that Kirk, too, was in an air-conditioned room at the hospital, and somewhat improved.

I understand that Jack Townes leased out his station and has become somewhat of an understudy of his brother, Junius, who, with his many interests, needs some reliable help.

It's getting HOT when it is too hot for Herman Heath to go fishing. He is staying close to his air-conditioned home.

Had word from Pvt. H. R. Lott of Holcomb and Ft. Benning, Ga. that my remarks about Rita Hayworth, who played in 'Sadie Thompson, made a hit among Lott's associates in Ft. Benning. Lott, it seems was recently home on furlough.

I dont know who else got the fine rain last Saturday afternoon, but the part of Beat Five across the river got a mud-soaker.

It ought to be recorded somewhere that Andrew, J. Fred Austin, Baker Dennis and I went to Enid last Thursday afternoon, after we got the GCW in the postoffice. The score: J. Fred, 1(one); Dennis 5. Andrew, 7; me, 10.

As a matter of fact, I am getting tired of catching those tiny bass, although Friedman, Darras and I went back Sunday to be laughed at by the redoubtable Tommie. Tommie furnishes the minnows, and Louie and I agree that 15 cents worth of minnows dont go very far.

I guess Grenada will soon be inaugurating some sort of Water Festival at Grenada Lake to vie with Sardis and Batesville.

S. L. Duboise, one of our subscribers in Joliet, Ill., was here for the holidays and came around and renewed his subscription, but Bob Vandiver got here early to renew for his wife.

'Red' Martin came up to Grenada for the holidays and also to renew his subscription and that of his aunt, both of whom live in Pascagoula.

I did not get to talk to Miss Lida about the history of Eddie Davis' home site, but it was near what used to be called Longstreet's Crossing, according to 'Miss Lida' Perry, otherwise J. B. Perry.

I just feel that EVERYBODY is glad the holidays are over and folks can get back to politics which, especially in the senatorial race, are (is) getting hot.

Jim Eastland had to go back to Washington to see something about farm parities, hence he had to postpone his appointment to speak in Grenada Wednesday, but Grenada County is fairly 'safe' anyway.

Politics aint going to be the same in Beat Three since the veteran Warner Horton, now lives in Coahoma County.

Speaking of veterans, I must make a belated note that Will Criss, former power in Beat Three, now living in West Point, sent in his renewal recently and, no doubt, has been looking for his name a good while. Whoever you sent the money by, Will, got here all right.

I guess Bardy Fox will run for reelectoin as supervisor in Beat 5, but dont know positively. Old man John Gibson used to say that a man, who once held office was either defeated or died in office.

I imagine, if Albert Clark decided to quit, the folks in Beat Three would simply draft him.

I have not yet heard of anyone running against Ben Sanders in Beat One, but guess someone, or some oneS will show up eventually.

J. Fred Austin can't brag to the Austins, Baileys and Bloodworths now since the GCW crew went fishing Wednesday. The Whitakers caught 27, J. Fred, 3.

Too late to put a head on: Dr. A. L. Goodrich, editor of the Baptist Record, will speak at both Sunday services at the 1st Baptist Church Sunday.

About This "New Industry" Business

On July 24, 1954, the voters of Beat One, most of whom live in the City of Grenada, will vote on a proposed bond issue of a little over a million dollars, the proceeds to be used in buying the land and erecting a factory building there on for use of the McQuay Company, manufacturers of air conditioning equipment.

I found out Wednesday from Cap Oliver just how the local Chamber of Commerce made the deal which assured this community of the coming here of this modern industry.

It seems that the McQuay Company was dickering with Starkville for a location. Bill Fedric, head of the Industrial Committee of our local C. of C. got wind of the deal and got in touch with the company and, after presenting Grenada's 'case' to its officials, got them to change their plans in several respects to move kit & kaboodle here to Grenada. First, the company was about 'sold' on Starkville; next the company decided to split its activities between Grenada and Starkville, then abandoned that idea, and, after conferring with folks in Grenada, decided not to split up at all, but have everything in Grenada. The first plan was to build a smaller building but make provisions in the plans for additions to that buildin. This plan was abandoned for one calling for buildings AND expansions all at once.

The McQuay Company prefers a location on the Ross property lying between 51 Highway and the IC right-of-way and that is the property on which the community has an option to buy and that property, no doubt, will be bought with part of the proceeds of the bond issue.

I got Wednesday morning what I had been waiting to hear: that Cap Oliver thought that it's a good deal and he said this unhesitatingly. Cap Oliver, somewhat in the background, has been working hard on this deal, and doing a lot of traveling and conferring and investigating for several months.

After talking to Cap Oliver and Bill Fedric, in each of whom I have great confidence, I am ready to take a chance, and vote for a proposition from which it appears likely that 400-600 men will get well-paying jobs. And from which this community will receive many benefits in 'lending its credit' to a company with a fine record.

July 24th - just about two weeks from now - is the date for voting.

I am ready to 'go along.'

If this is YOUR farm, you can get, without charge, a nicely mounted picture of the farm, but you must come to the Grenada County Weekly and identify it.

While you are in the GCW office, we hope to interview you and get a story, for subsequent publication, about this property and about your family.

If you need other photographs of the above, either the size shown, or larger or on postal cards, the GCW can, and will arrange for them. A reasonable charge, of course will be made for these reproductions. Let us show you samples.

Tribute To Bill Fedric By Fred Sullens

The following is the editorial which appeared in the Jackson Daily News of July 1st—which is self-explanatory:

'A special election will be held at Grenada on July 24 to vote on a $1,075,000 bond issue to finance a building and facilities for the McQuay Manufacturing Co., of Minneapolis, Minnesota.

The company has proposed to locate a plant just south of Tie Plant to manufacture air conditioning and refrigeration units.

Approval of the bond issue will give Grenada County one of the choicest BAWI payrolls in the state. Nearly 500 people will be employed by the company, which already makes 42 per cent of the air conditioning coils now used in the entire industry.

Folks at Grenada literally stole McQuay from another city in North Mississippi, which had already begun to make plans for location of the plant.

Largely responsible for the change of site was William Fedric, young Grenada attorney, who once was nominated for the title of Mississippi's outstanding young man.

Fedric heard about McQuay's proposition and enlisting the aid of Chamber of Commerce members, launched a real campaign to entice McQuay to Grenada.

It was at tht beautiful Fedric home at Glenwild that officials of the company were entertained and told about the advantages around Grenada.

So impressed were the executives that they sent word later they had no idea southern hospitality could be so real—and not just a phrase from the story books.

A delegation from Grenada went to Minneapolis and the contracts were signed.

It is not likely that Grenada voters are going to turn down the bond issue.'

John Pressgrove in Natchez, not wishing to live in ignorance, missed his last week's issue, but wrote to get another copy. It sorter seems 'funny' not having John Pressgrove in Grenada, but John, they say, is doing well helping Tom Ketchins run one of Mississippi's 5 BIG printing establishments.

A lotta folks seem more interested in getting Carroll Gartin out of Paul Johnson's hair, than electing Carroll to the U. S. Senate. They seem to know by intuition that, if Carroll is not elected to the Senate, he will be in the governor's race in 1955, and they are probably right. As a matter of fact, I would probably vote to promote Carroll to Hugh White's place in Jackson, if I had such a chance.

This Is The Reason Senator Jim Eastland Was Not In Grenada As Scheduled Wednesday

(W. U. Telagram)

Senator Jim Eastland said this afternoon he will fly to Washington Tuesday night for a Wednesday morning meeting of the Senate Agriculture meeting and a 'knock down battle over price support.'

His departure for Washington means a cancellation of a scheduled engagement at Grenada Wednesday night and cancellation of the Hinds County rally which was to be held Thursday night at Jackson. The Hinds rally has been postponed until the night of July 13th.

The Senator filled engagements at Winona, Columbus and Booneville.

'There's only a one vote margin on the Committee to retain full 90 percent support prices for cotton,' Senator Eastland said. 'Eight of us favor 90 percent support and seven want flexible support which can go only one way and that is down.'

The House recently passed a flexible support program which has been advocated by the Eisenhower Administration the House approved bill is to be considered by the Senate Committee of which Eastland is a member at the Wednesday morning session.

Senator Eastland also announced he 'will fight for an ammendment to the bill which will raise dairy support price from 75 to 85 percent'. The amendment has already been introduced in the Senate.

The Senator will be back from Washington in time to fill engagements already scheduled Friday at Quitman and Saturday at Wyanesboro, Union, Bay Springs and Collins.

The beautiful 88 2-door Oldsmobile sedan priced at $2383.26 in last weeks paper, should have been $2398.26. The ad with correction appears in this issue.

The Jackson Daily News certainly did write a nice piece about Bill Fedric of Grenada. Bill and Grenada appreciate it.

EGGS ARE GOOD FOOD—GOOD FOR YOU

Eggs are such good food that they should be included in every day's diet. There are many ways of preparing eggs for those people who like eggs as eggs, but for the people who don't, you can "sneak" them into custards, breads, desserts and even mashed potatoes.

Graded eggs are appearing in Mississippi grocery stores and you should take advantage of this to get more for your money. The lower grades are less expensive and can be used advantageously in mixtures and cooked dishes.

Here are some tips on buying eggs.

How can you tell when an egg is of good quality when all you can see is the shell?

Because the shell of an egg reveals little about its quality, government gradings are stamped on egg cartons as your guide. Generally speaking, a Grade AA or Grade A egg when removed from the shell has a firm, thick white which takes up a small area in the skillet and the yolk stands firm and high. As the grade lowers, the white becomes thinner and the yolk flattens out.

Regardless of government grading, nutritive value of eggs is the same. High quality eggs are ideal for cooking in the shell, frying or poaching, where appearance is an important factor. Lower qualities may be economical and are just as good for omelets, scrambling, and general cooking.

When you select eggs for cooking you will have to depend to a large extent upon government gradings, but here are a few things you can look for before making your purchase to be sure of a good buy.

In a fresh egg, the shell has a slightly rough texture and a dull appearance caused by the 'bloom' —a protective film which seals the pores and helps keep bacteria out. A shiny appearance indicates that the bloom has been removed by careless handling or age.

Modern poultry farms refrigerate eggs immediately and observe every precaution to keep them fresh. Whenever possible, purchase eggs from stores which keep them under refrigeration, or from farmers who you know observe precautions for keeping them fresh. Once allowed to stand at room temperature for as long as 3 days, they may lose as much in quality as those kept in a refrigerator for 2 weeks.

Grade A, Extra Large, white eggs are not always the best purchase. The size as given on egg cartons is determined by weight, with an average egg weighing about 2 ounces. Cooking performance, quality, and nutritive value of small eggs are equal to those of larger eggs.

The color of an egg tells nothing about the egg itself, even though white eggs are often more expensive. Brown or white, eggs have the same food value, flavor, and quality when given the same government grading.

GOOD HOME STORAGE IMPORTANT

It is just as important for you to store eggs carefully as it is for the poultry farmer or grocer.

Or hot summer days, make eggs your last purchase, and get them home and into the refrigerator as soon as possible. Wipe off soiled spots with a damp cloth, for eggs with clean shells keep best. Because washing removes the protective "bloom," eggs should not be washed until just before using.

Many of the newer standard refrigerators have door shelves or egg baskets designed especially for egg storage. Store enough eggs in these receptacles for two or three days' use; otherwise keep eggs in covered containers. Without a cover, eggs lose moisture faster and are more likely to absorb unpleasant odors.

"Hearing Aids of Merit Since 1912, Our 42nd Year"

In his 50-minute address, Senator Eastland did not refer to his opponent but discussed his record of 12 years in the senate and described legislation he has favored which is still pending in Congress.

Recalling the distribution of cotton acreage allotments, he said he was on the three-man senate subcommittee to write a new acreage bill after the Department of Agriculture announced a drastic cutback.

In spite of a Republican majority fighting for the western Republican states, Senator Eastland said Mississippi and Arkansas "took the lowest acreage reductions of any major cotton growing states. Mississippi fared twice as well as California and the other western states."

He said "every agricultural organization, Senator John Stennis and other southern senators, and every one of the Mississippi Congressmen" supported the bill written by his sub-committee.

He said the senate agriculture committee, of which he is a member, "now stands only 8 to 7 in favor of price supports of 90 per cent of parity." The others, he said, favor flexible supports "but the only way flexible supports can go is down."

Senator Eastland charged the CIO with joining the N.A.A.C.P. "and other racial pressure groups" in an attempt "to break down segregation and other southern traditions. He said that he and other southerners "beat these groups" on their legislative programs "and that's why they turned to the Supreme Court." He called for cohesion and unity in what will be "a heroic struggle by southern leadership" to "preserve our customs and traditions."

On the platform with Senator Eastland were his wife and four children, and all five Scott county colonels on the staff of Governor White.

Are We Growing?

Lesson for July 11, 1954

WHEN is a "grown person" grown? All sensible grown-ups know that they are not quite fully grown in some ways. Whenever you see an adult taking a correspondence course, or taking dancing lessons or trying to play a better game of golf, or being a smarter farmer or business man or what not, there you see a grown person who knows he still has room to grow, and can grow. Psychologists tell us that one of the great scientific discoveries of this age is finding that adults are plastic, that is to say, no one is ever too old to learn, too old to grow.

Dr. Foreman

Growing Up to What?

The tragedy is that many Christians, these same people who are not content to be just the same farmer or golf-player they used to be, these same people who are growing in other ways, are content to be no bigger or better Christians than they were 20 years ago. As Christians, they are dwarfs, midgets. They stopped growing long ago. It is worth while to remember that Paul's letters were written to grown people, not children; yet he urges these adults not to be children any more! Paul has a good deal to say about growing as a Christian, and he points out that this is the most important growth there is. The first thing you want to know, in growing anything, is what you want this thing, this plant or animal or what not, to be. When a home gardener raises tomatoes, he always has in mind the pictures on the seed catalogue cover. When a horse breeder in Kentucky raises a colt, he has some great race horses in his mind's eye. If you don't know where you are headed, you can't tell whether you are making progress. Now the Apostle Paul leaves no doubt as to what is the goal of Christian growth. It is not a what at all, but a whom. The measure of Christian manhood is Christ himself.

Growing Season

Life brings us some crises when we grow up, so to speak, overnight. But these are rare. It is all a mistake to sit around waiting for something marvelous to happen all at once. The Bible's emphasis on growing suggests that we become more Christlike by degrees. There are springtimes of the spirit when growth is faster than in life's winter nights. But the growing season for the Christian is the year round. This is specially important to remember when we are up against something that seems to block us off and keep us from any progress. We must remember what we were thinking about last week, that growing demands effort, effort against odds sometimes. Is it likely that the young man Jesus found Nazareth the kind of town that helped him to increase in favor with God and man? No; but the very fact that he had to push against the down-drag of that village, made him stronger. If you want to grow stronger physically, you will have to lift heavy weights, not egg-shells. If you want to grow mentally, you will have to study something harder than the multiplication table and the primer. So we may be helped to grow in spirit by those very things which make it hard to be a Christian.

How to Do It

There would be no point whatever in the command given more than once, "Grow!" if there were nothing we could do about it. II Peter 3:18 gives one extremely valuable hint: "Grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour." If growing in his grace seems a bit hard to understand, growing in knowledge of him is surely plain enough. Do we want to grow as Christians? Do we want, really, to be more like the Master? Then we shall have to know him better. There are two ways of knowing Christ better. One is to read the gospels more often, think about them more. Matthew, Mark, Luke and John ought to be the most familiar books the Christian knows. But Christ is far more than a historical character. He lives today in the hearts of those who love and work with him. It is possible, and for a growing Christian it is necessary, to know Christ as the "unseen companion," the Christ who through his Spirit "dwells in the heart by faith." But how can Christ live in the heart, if the mind never gives him a thought?

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

A very pretty young woman came in to see us Saturday. She turned out to be Mrs. T. A. Coleman, wife of the fellow who brought in that herd of Santa Gertrude cattle from Crystal City, West Texas to the ranch he bought from O. W. Scott in the Camp McCain old reservation east of Elliott. Mabel, who was present, immediately fell in love with Mrs. Coleman and has been talking about how lovely she is ever since.

Mrs. Coleman brought in a published article by Clayton Rand about the S. G. cattle, also an informative booklet about the breed. She has been getting the GCW over a year now, likely will be in again soon to renew.

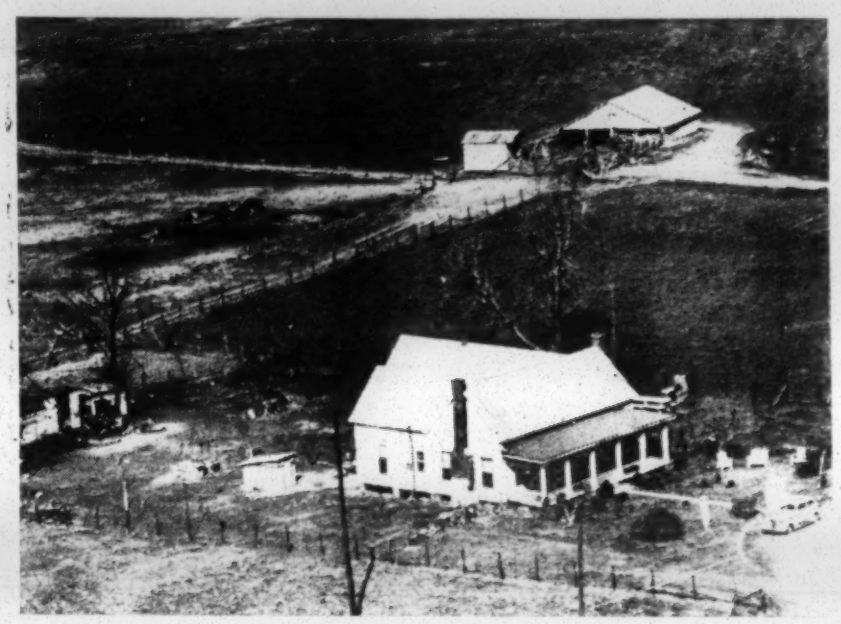
After we got the paper out Thursday, Andrew J. Frey Austin, Baker Dennis and I went to fishing to Enid. J. Fred did not get us THIS time. As a matter of fact, I caught more of those tiny bass than did any of the others.

Mrs. Lewis Dubard Sr. sent us a nice lot of apples Friday. Wish somebody would send us some real nice tomatoes, because ours at Oxberry have about run off into the grass.

Mr. Hernando Staten of Beat Five and H. I. Jones of Beat Two both paid up early. There are about as many James in Beat 2 as there are Staten's in Beat 5.

Me and Jim.

"Farm Of The Week" – Last Week



—This Series Sponsored by Jitney-Jungle, Grenada

The 'Far mof the Week', shown last week was not a farm headquarters after all. The aerial photographer saw a pretty view, then snapped the picture.

After all, the picture is that of the Eddie Davis home which is located about three miles south of Grenada. Actually the house shown is the reconstructed home that has stood on the spot many years.

Eddie Davis, like many others in the Grenada Reservoir area, was a year and a half ago driven out of that area and sold his property near Gravsport and moved into the vicinity of Grenada where he is mail rider on Star Route Two, the route that covers the hill section southwest of Grenada.

Originally, the land was part of the very large Ross property. This part got into the hands of the late 'Sip' Tatum, and, later into the hands of Mr. Will Wood who did to graph.

Mr. Davis was in the Grenada Reservoir area for some years before he was driven out by the Government. He was born and reared in Grenada county and is well known throughout the county.

Honey

HONEY for ages has been recognized as the most delicious and purest of all sweets; but, like all other natural products, it has as many delicate flavors as the odors of the flowers from which it is gathered. For instance, honey gathered from clover, basswood, milkweed, raspberry, buckwheat, and the blossoms of the orange tree will all have their distinctive flavors or aroma of the blossoms from which it is gathered. Customers have sometimes jumped to the conclusion that there was adulteration when honey did not taste like it did on the "old farm". No one has ever been able to manufacture a single section of comb honey. For over twenty five years there has been a standing offer of $1,000 for proof of the manufacture of comb honey.

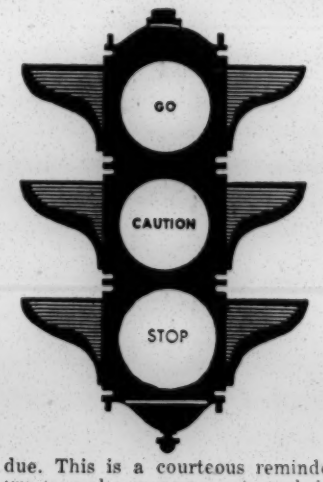
EVERY PERSON HAS A CREDIT RATING
The only exception to this rule is the person who operates so exclusively on a cash basis that he finds it difficult to secure any credit references in times of actual necessity.

Do You Know What A Credit Bureau Does?
Your local Credit Bureau keeps on file your CREDIT RATING, readily available to credit-grantors with whom you wish to establish credit. Many persons are so acutely conscious of the value of establishing a Credit Rating, that they call the Credit Bureau immediately upon moving to a new town.

Have You Been Introduced To Signal Credit System



In order that the customer may know how his own credit rating is listed with the local Credit Bureau, the merchants and professional men of Grenada have adopted a system called SIGNAL CREDIT. This system operates very much as does the traffic signal on our street corners: as long as you (the customer or patient) are keeping accounts paid in a manner satisfactory to the credit-grantor, you may assume you are operating on the "green" light, or "go" signal.

If you allow your account to become delinquent, you may receive a "Caution" notice from the business with whom you have become past-due. This is a courteous reminder to "slow down" on charges, and try to make arrangements to bring your account back up into good standing.

When you, through disregard of this courteous notice, fail to meet this obligation or make arrangements for same, a "red-light" or "Stop" notice is sent to you, and further charge accommodations should not be requested until you have taken care of those already outstanding.

If this Stop notice is also disregarded, then a copy is sent to the Credit Bureau to be placed in the files, and to remain there a permanent record until notice of settlement of the account is received by the Credit Bureau.

This Signal Credit System, composed of courteous reminders of your credit standing, is brought to Grenada and endorsed by the Credit Bureau of Grenada as a service to the customer, patient, buyer, or client; and to the merchant, professional man, or other credit-grantor. We are here to seve YOU. Call us at 193 or 1698 whenever we may be of service or help.. SINCERELY YOURS,

Country Club Golf News

(By Hugh Ketchum)

Twenty six players competed in the Scotch foursome tourney Monday afternoon at the Grenada Country Club. Mrs. A. T. Nadeau and Henry Ray, Jr., were low scorers with a 51 total for the nine holes of unorothodox golfing.

Players had to drive off a mattress; putt with a ping pong ball; drive one-legged; putt with a broom; drive blind-folded; putt in a bucket in a sand trap; putt left-handed, all done with the lady partner taking one stroke and the man the next, alternating all the way. Gordon Ebert and Mrs. Milton Percival won the consolation prize.

Roger Hannan of Clarksdale, guest of Bill Hannan, won the driving contest with a three-ball total of 684 yards, edging Lamar Chamberlain. Mrs. Donald Lockett won the ladies' putting contest.

In the children's game during the afternoon Randy Lockett and Rodney Smith won the three-legged race; Henry Ray, III. won the sack race; Curlee Boone, III won the 30-yard dash, and Rodney Smith won the golf in a spoon race.

Approximately 150 persons enjoyed the program during the day, followed by a barbecue and dancing in the evening.

Smith Triumphs

Bpp Smith, defending champion, made a big step toward a successful defense of his title Sunday when he defeated Ed Penn, 1953 runer-up, in the annual City Golf Tournament at the Grenada Country Club. The defending title-holder shot steady par golf to turn back Penn's bid for a fifth championship.

Smith will clash with the winner of the Ernest Penn—Donald Lockett match in the semi-final round. Ernest Penn also is a former champion who won an impressive first-round decision over Henry Ray, Jr., another former winner.

In the bottom half of the championship bracket J. A. Cooper and Lamar Chamberlain advanced to the semi-final round. Cooper turned back Hugh Ketchum and Chamberlain beat Stan Elmore.

Semi-finals also have been reached in the championship consolation round where Bob Bridges beat Bob Connerly; Henry Ray beat Bill Parks, Frank Gerard defeated Cliff Bailey and Joe Neely, Jr. beat Walker. The pairing for the semi-final round will match Bridges and Ray in the top bracket and Neely and Gerard in the bottom bracket.

John Lake pulled two quick upsets to gain the finals in first flight competition, defeating Ira Parks in the second round and Paul Lockett in the semi-final round. The top half of the first flight is still in doubt. Ed Swetland,, default winner from Donald Ross will meet the winner of the Forest Heath—Bill Hannan match to determine an opponent for Julian Lockett, who advanced to the semi-finals with victories over Joe B. Williams and Curlee Boone.

Second flight competition moved to the second round with Ray Hopkins defeating Bob Horton. He will clash with Evans Pryor in the top semi-final match while Randy Holliday will meet the winner of the B. F. Heath—Lynn Walker match in the other semi-final.

EGGS ARE GOOD FOOD—GOOD FOR YOU

Eggs are such good food that they should be included in every day's diet. There are many ways of preparing eggs for those people who like eggs as eggs, but for the people who don't, you can "sneak" them into custards, breads, desserts and even mashed potatoes.

Graded eggs are appearing in Mississippi grocery stores and you should take advantage of this to get more for your money. The lower grades are less expensive and can be used advantageously in mixtures and cooked dishes.

Here are some tips on buying eggs:

How can you tell when an egg is of good quality when all you can see is the shell?

Because the shell of an egg reveals little about its quality, government gradings are stamped on egg cartons as your guide. Generally speaking, a Grade AA or Grade A egg when removed from the shell has a firm, thick white which takes up a small area in the skillet and the yolk stands firm and high. As the grade lowers, the white becomes thinner and the yolk flattens out.

Regardless of government grading, nutritive value of eggs is the same. High quality eggs are ideal for cooking in the shell, frying or poaching, where appearance is an important factor. Lower qualities may be economical and are just as good for omelets, scrambling, and general cooking.

When you select eggs for cooking you will have to depend to a large extent upon government gradings, but here are a few things you can look for before making your purchase to be sure of a good buy.

In a fresh egg, the shell has a slightly rough texture and a dull appearance caused by the 'bloom'—a protective film which seals the pores and helps keep bacteria out. A shiny appearance indicates that the bloom has been removed by careless handling or age.

Modern poultry farms refrigerate eggs immediately and observe every precaution to keep them fresh. Whenever possible, purchase eggs from stores which keep them under refrigeration, or from farmers who you know observe precautions for keeping them fresh. Once allowed to stand at room temperature for as long as 3 days, they may lose as much in quality as those kept in a refrigerator for 2 weeks.

Grade A, Extra Large, white eggs are not always the best purchase. The size as given on egg cartons is determined by weight, with an average egg weighing about 2 ounces. Cooking performance, quality, and nutritive value of small eggs are equal to those of larger eggs.

The color of an egg tells nothing about the egg itself, even though white eggs are often more expensive. Brown or white, eggs have the same food value, flavor, and quality when given the same government grading.

GOOD HOME STORAGE IMPORTANT

It is just as important for you to store eggs carefully as it is for the poultry farmer or grocer.

On hot summer days, make eggs your last purchase, and get them home and into the refrigerator as soon as possible. Wipe off soiled spots with a damp cloth, for eggs with clean shells keep best. Because washing removes the protective "bloom," eggs should not be washed until just before using.

Many of the newer standard refrigerators have door shelves or egg baskets designed especially for egg storage. Store enough eggs in these receptacles for two or three days' use; otherwise keep eggs in covered containers. Without a cover, eggs lose moisture faster and are more likely to absorb unpleasant oders.

TIME SAVERS
by Opal Madison

When grating dry bread to be used in meat loaf, casseroles, etc., use a large paper bag and grate inside it. This saves cleaning crumbs from counter tops.

Even better, place toasted bread in bag. Close bag and roll out crumbs with rolling pin. These will not be as fine as grating, however.

To save washing measuring cups so often, measure dry ingredients first then use the same cup, measure liquids.

To save washing muffin pans, use paper liners for cup cakes. To ice cup cakes, dip them into icing.

Use a rubber spatula to clean bowls, pots and pans. Less waste and less washing.

To save dish washing, serve meat, potatoes and vegetables all on same large chop plate.

For cleaning ovens—use household ammonia.

Don't peel potatoes—cook them in skins—then slip peeling off.

Plastic mixing bowls are light weight and mean less breakage.

Use child's white stocking over rolling pin. Cuf the foot of the stocking off. The ribbed cotton holds flour well and does not stick.

Use dust cloths in dusting. One in each hand.

To keep food warm—use inverted cake pans over it.

Use aluminum foil—Under pie pan to catch spill overs.
Line broiler pan—not rack.
Line cookie sheets.
Use when you have no lid for a pot or pan.

If you have a hard time finding the string to a light in the closet. Paint the string with aluminum paint, then it will glow in the dark.

Put slip covers in washer—don't let completely dry—place on chair and smooth out. You won't have to press them this way.

Embroidery Thread—Place all colors on cardboard or plywood with notches for thread to fit in and thread will never get tangled. All colors can easily be seen.

Pipe cleaners for rolling hair—children's, and that hard to pin hair around the neck.

The en dresult of well planned improved pasture could well be the title of this milk processing scene in any one of the 376 milk plants here in Mississippi aong the ICRR. This railroad was one of the first in America to initiate a dairy development and improvement program in cooperation with agricultural agents, state and regional fairs. In checking the list of Illinois Central dairy bulls, L. H. Stubblefield, Agri. Agt. finds that there have been over 300 loaned to dairy farmers here in Mississippi for herd improvement. This dairy improvement program over the past 48 years in cooperation with interested groups has resulted in the establishment of over 350 creameries along the IC which only had one in 1912. This along with the many cheese plants, whole milk plants, condenseries has given Mississippi dairy men one of the best markets in America.

Mississippi with its major area best suited for pasture than for row crops will continue to increase in importance as a dairy state. Only the dairy cow can change farm roughages, grasses and clovers into so many wholesome and nourishing foods. Dairy foods make up 30 percent of the nation's food eaten daily, yet only cost 15 percent of the food dollar. Milk, nature's most complete food, is the best buy in America.

First Baptist Church Is Setting For Moore—Moore Vows

An outstanding wedding of late Spring was that of Miss Bonnie Jeane Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Adams Moore of Grenada, and Dave A. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Moore of Memphis, Tenn.

The sacred and impressive vows were read at the First Baptist Church Sunday, June 14, at three o'clock in the afternoon. The pastor, Dr. John W. Landrum, officiated and nuptial selections were presented by Mrs. Steve Smith, vocalist, and Miss Peggy Evans, organist.

Against a background of fern trees, white tapers glowed in branched candelabra. Four princess baskets held elaborate arrangements of white gladioli, stock and emerald fern. An arch of greenery completed the altar decorations.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely young bride wore a ballerina length gown of nylon tulle, fashioned with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Her brief jacket was of Chantilly lace and featured long sleeves ending in points over the hands. A shoulder length veil of misty illusion fell from her tiara of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white orchid from which cascaded white satin ribbons and stephanotis.

Miss Heidi Moore was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Mickey Hayward of Shreveport and Mrs. Frank Matthews, Jr. They wore ballerina length dresses of dusty rose, the tight-fitting bodices of taffeta and the very full skirts of net over taffeta. Their headdresses were of red roses attached to Nile green maline caps adorned with matching satin ribbons, and they carried cascade bouquets of red roses on Nile green maline backed by angel feathers.

Howard Broyles of Memphis served the groom as best man, and groomsmen were Phil Gardner of Memphis and Frank Matthews, Jr.

Mrs. Moore chose for her daughter's wedding a smartly styled frock of blue lace with white accessories; the groom's mother wearing navy and white with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

Reception

The Community House was the setting for the reception given by the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony.

Beautiful sterling candelabra holding white tapers graced the mantel of the spacious club room where guests were greeted by the parents of the bride and groom and the wedding personnel. Miss Joyce Gunter presided at the bride's book.

The refreshment table, overlaid with an exquisite imported cutwork cloth, held the three-tiered wedding cake which was decorated with white rosebuds and tiny silver bells and encircled with white carnations, plumosus fern and ribbon bows. A white and silver wedding bell surmounted the cake, and extended from it were white ribbon streamers ending in small carnation nosegays at each corner of the table.

Mrs. Levy McCracken of Earle, Arkansas cut the cake and Mrs. John Ainsworth of Jackson poured the punch. Assisting in the dining room were Miss Margaret Pate, Mrs. W. E. Brunson and Mrs. Walter Moore.

The bride and groom left for a Florida honeymoon trip, Mrs. Moore wearing navy and white summer crepe with matching accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. They will make their home in Memphis where the groom is affiliated with the Illinois Central Railroad.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding and reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Phil Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Droyes, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Horn, and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Moore and Mrs. Lula Tollison, all of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Levy McCracken, Mrs. R. P. Ferguson, and Mrs. Lawrenee Grantham of Earle, Ark.; Mrs. C. X. KITCHEN SHOWER FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Nancy Sue Neely was the lovely honoree at a kitchen shower on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, when Mrs. J. F. McRee and Mrs. C. V. Gibson were cohostess at the McRee home in Holcomb.

For this social affair the reception rooms were decorated with a profusion of lovely summer flowers. The honoree chose a becoming trousseau frock of blue floral organdy whics featured rhinestone trim. The hostesses presented her a corsage of gardenias. Each guest wrote a favorite recipe in the brides guest book.

The gifts were presented in a very unique way. The huge (dummy) wedding cake, which was elaborately trimmed and was the center piece of the large dining table, failed to cut properly when Miss Neely was asked to cut it, so with the help of her hostess, lifted the cake and revealed numerous lovely gifts for her kitchen.

After the gifts were admired refreshments consisting of iced Coca-Cola, finger and open face sandwiches and squares of white cake were served.

The guest list included the sonoree and mother, Mrs. L. G. Neely, the groom mother, Mrs. Holland Heath and his two sisters, Mrs. Leslie of Washington, D. C. and Mrs. Heath of Atlanta, Ga. An aunt of the honoree, Mrs. Marshall of New Orleans, and friends from Holcomb, Mesdames E. D. Holcomb, Hortense Mathews, Hattie Singleton, H. K. McMahan, A. L. Jackson, H. S. Norris, C. C. Mullin, S. L. Norris, F. B. Scott, Mary Alice McRee, R. K. McRee, W. A. Billups, E. L. Fite and Misses Ann Norris and Rose Mary McRee, granddaughters of the hostess.

—Memorial Books In Library—

Mrs. Anne Wilson Frye has donated the book 'Don't Tread On Me' by Walter Karig in memory of her father, Capt. Rudolph Wilson (S.C.) USN and it is now available in Grenada County Library. She reviewed the book in last Sunday's Commercial Appeal and part of her very able rendition is quoted here.

'Don't Tread On Me' is both an outstanding historical novel and a refreshingly saly yarn peopled with delightful characters. Through the eyes of Manasseh Fisher, the bound boy from Martha's vineyard, who ran away from a dull and fruitless life in order to line his destiny with that of John Paul Jones, the reader is introduced to the personality of that almost legendary hero and carried through a neglected but most interesting section of the American Revolution.

The saga of Manesseh Fisher is what we like to believe is the typical American way of life. We grow up with him from the pathetic bound boy of 15, with the stigma of illigitimacy, to the ardent young lover, the Midshipman who acquitted himself well in battle and in the eyes of his skipper and it is quite according to American tradition that the New England lad of numble beginnings should woo and win the daughter of a Scottish Peer.'

'Play Production' by Mitlow Smith is a good general aid on the producing of amateur performances, stage settings and directions. It is in memory of Mrs. Sue Echols Caruthers, the mother of Dr. S. B. Caruthers.

'A Stillness at Appomatox' by Bruce Catton, is the Pulitzer prize winner for history and also won the National Book Award besides being the Book of the Month. It is the fateful last chapter of the Army of the Potomac's dramatic saga. Opposing Grant and the Army of the Potomac was Robert E. Lee, the last Great Knight of Battle, he was a god to his men and a scourge to his antagonists. This book is placed in memory of Margie Weir.

If somebody wants his or her name in the paper, just give us a mess of nice tomatoes. Folks hurry in with the first bloom, the first square and the first open boll, but forget the paper with first watermelons, first cantelopes, first mess of peas.

The saddest story of the week is one told by our pastor about his sister and family who are Missionaries in Guatemala City. After several years of service - benevolent service - to the people in that forsaken country, this family was recently subjected to all kinds of indignities and deprived of their liberty, having been ordered to remain indoors of their home while the country's little war is brewing. There are of course no charges against these people except perhaps they are Christians from the United States, people who gave up good homes in our country because of their desire to help the underprivileged and unlearned to find a better life. The communists just can't believe this would be their only motive for their being there and they watch over them like they were criminals. To make sure this family will not mix with the people, the authorities have confisciated their new family car which friends in this country gave them last Chistmas. Since the days of Lottie Moon who gave most of her life time to the service of underprivileged China, men and women have felt in their hearts the call to far-a-way places to aid and administer to sick, forgotten and forsaken peoples and most of this sacrificial service has gone unheralded and unappreciated by those who received the most of it.

Yet, we know their efforts have not been in vain. Here's a little story about some work done by Christian teachers in a mission in China. During the war with Japan, some enemy soldiers raided one of the mission schools where 100 little Chinese kids were learning about Christianity. The leader of the gang had the huge cross brought down from atop of the school building and told the children if they waif across the wooden cross and spit on it that their lives would be spared. The story says seven children did it, but the eighth was a little 10 year old girl who got up from her knees in prayer and went out the door but was careful not to step on the cross and she was riddled with bullets. The next 92 children followed in her footsteps each being executed as they did so but not a one of them faltered as they went out.

Well, we must have the commercials. One TV announcer is reported to have said 'We have just received a bulletin of the worst catastrophe the world has ever known - but first a word from our sponsor.

Description of the time goes like this:

This is the age
Of the hald-read page
And the quick hash
And the mad dash.

The bright night
With the nerves tight.

The plane hop
And the brief stop
The lamp tan
In a short span.

The big shot
In a good spot
And the brain strain
And the heart pain.

And the cat naps
Till the spring snaps
And the fun's done.

TIME SAVERS
by Opal Madison

When grating dry bread to be used in meat loaf, casseroles, etc., use a large paper bag and grate inside it. This saves cleaning crumbs from counter tops.

Even better, place toasted bread in bag. Close bag and roll out crumbs with rolling pin. These will not be as fine as grating, however.

To save washing measuring cups so often, measure dry ingredients first then use the same cup, measure liquids.

To save washing muffin pans, use paper liners for cup cakes. To ice cup cakes, dip them into icing.

Use a rubber spatula to clean bowls, pots and pans. Less waste and less washing.

To save dish washing, serve meat, potatoes and vegetables all on same large chop plate.

For cleaning ovens—use household ammonia.

Don't peel potatoes—cook them in skins—then slip peeling off.

Plastic mixing bowls are light weight and mean less breakage.

Use child's white stocking over rolling pin. Cut the foot of the stocking off. The ribbed cotton holds flour well and does not stick.

Use dust cloths in dusting. One in each hand.

To keep food warm—use inverted cake pans over it.

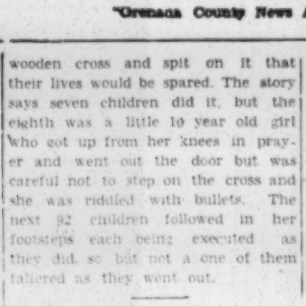
Use aluminum foil—Under pie pan to catch spill overs.
Line broiler pan—not rack.
Line cookie sheets.
Use when you have no lid for a pot or pan.

If you have a hard time finding the string to a light in the closet. Paint the string with aluminum paint, then it will glow in the dark.

Put slip covers in washer—don't let completely dry—place on chair and smooth out. You won't have to press them this way.

Embroidery Thread—Place all colors on cardboard or plywood with notches for thread to fit in and thread will never get tangled. All colors can easily be seen.

Pipe cleaners for rolling hair—children's, and that hard to pin hair around the neck.



We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.—Acts 4:20.

For the first time in 50 or 60 years, Uncle Bob Hall was in our house last week, the occasion being that Mabel had found the old Hall Bible and asked Bob to come, get it, since Bob is the oldest living member of the Dick Hall family. And, too, he needed it to secure a correct birth certificate.

From meager information I get, several gentlemen of various beats in the county will follow my suggestions and run on a platform for supervisor, pledging that, if elected, he will strive for a county-unit system here to replace the present '5 counties in 1 county' system. But, boys, hold your horses. Dont start NOW.

Bill Cunningham, who has been having a grand time at the vets hospital in Jackson, was home for a few days last week.

Mrs. Dr. W. B. Hunt brought in 3 dollars for a new subscription for her father, Walter Crump in Sumner, Miss. The Crump family started near Oxberry about a century ago, then they moved to now extinct Parsons Station where, for many years about the dawn of this century, they were big bugs. Walter, himself, I am told, is a pretty big bug in the implement business in Sumner. Tallahatchie County, or, as I call it, the free state.

Speaking of Crumps, I remember my uncle Whyte Whitaker telling of taking refuge at the Crump home near Oxberry during one of the then frequent yellow fever scares, and how he got for eight dollars a month very excellent board, plus a monthly hair cut. Uncle Whyte and all of the older Crumps are now dead.

Carroll Gartin, seeking to wean me away from Jim Eastland, told a tale about a young fellow trying to kiss a pretty gal. He told her that kissing him would not hurt her even a little bit, yet would help him a heap. The point was that, it would not hurt me to vote for Carroll but, would help him a heap. There was a good deal of logic in that tale, but I am still for Jim.

It looked like Carroll Gartin got a pure-d Eastland man to introduce him at the Rotary luncheon here Monday, one of the Green Street Billy lawyers, Lawyer Billy Semmes.

I asked Albert Cohen if Carroll Gartin came by to see him, and received a negative reply. I found out why Albert is so ardent for Gartin. Albert knows that, if Mississippi sends Gartin to Washington, Paul Johnson wont have to worry with Gartin next year, yet Albert was a bit disappointed that Gartin passed him up. I remember Albert is a generous contributor; for example, both he and I sent Frank Harper a dollar six years ago.

The following came to us from Natchez:

Grenada surely must LOVE Mr. Lake to have presented him with a Witch with appropriate engraving. Just wonder what kind of engraving would be appropriate for a witch.

We had a mighty nice, pretty visitor from the free state Friday afternoon in the person of Mrs. Troutt, wife of Charleston's 'law'. She had picked up in weight since I saw her last bpt the added weight is symmetrically placed, in other words in the right places.

The GCW was honored Friday by a visit from Ned Lee, former editor and owner of the Webster Progress in Eupora. Ned, as a country editor, had that most valuable asset - knowing every peckerwood in Webster County, knowing how each voted, knowing his or her cousins. In short, he could write a pretty fair obituary of everyone, and without asking a question.

Congratulations to Mary Jane Perry Green for winning 3 or 4 awards at the recent Mississippi Press Convention held last week in Biloxi. Mary Jane is right smart.

Andrew and I are going to leave J. Fred Austin at home the next time we go to fishing. J. Fred caught 13, Andrew 11 and I, 7 last Friday afternoon at Enid.

Had a nice letter Monday from Mrs. Helen D. Hines of Tupelo. She reported that she had received (from me) a bundle of GCW's containing the story of the Dubard property and that she immediately began distributing the copies to other members of the far-flung family, many of who now live in New England. The GCW Gets Around and so do descendents of the Dubards.

One distinguished caller after another was the fare of the GCW last Monday: Hon. Carroll Gartin, candidate for the U. S. Senate, and Hon. Fred H. Bush, candidate for Chancellor of this district.

The 'J. Fred', that stupid television monkey, is on a world tour, I saw recently.

WHY I LIKE AN ELECTRIC RANGE

"Why I like an electric range" in twenty-five words or more. Twenty-five words are not a drop in the bucket when it comes to describing an electric range. There are so many fine features to make cooking a pleasure.

Would you like to spend less time scrubbing pots and pans? Well, you can if you own an electric range. The outsides of your pots need no more washing than your best china. Nor will there be as many pots with food cooked to the sides and bottom. The controlled heat of the electric range helps eliminate this.

One Mississippi homemaker—a Jacksonian, in fact, stated recently that she likes her new electric range because it is so cool. Who of us would not appreciate a cooler kitchen for these summer months ahead?

And who would not like to have some extra time? Here is a meal to be cooked in your electric oven which will give you a cool kitchen and time for reading, resting, or rocking.

Put peaches in the buttered casserole and sprinkle lemon juice and cinnamon over peaches. "Dot" peaches with butter (cut in small pieces) Add brown sugar to melted shortening. Add flour, rolled oats mixture to shortening and stir until mixture looks crumbly. Add vanilla, stir some more, spread this mixture over peaches.
